

ITALIAN MODEL
UNITED NATIONS

SCHEDULE

ear delegates,

we are Giusy Marrazzo and Riccardo Leoni, Secretary-General and Director General of IMUN Middle School Roma 2022. We are humbled to address you and to welcome you in the first steps of this new, great, and exciting experience in the corner of the Eternal City.

Our world is rapidly changing. During these years we are witnessing major events that involve us all and that are overcoming the course of international relations as we have known by the end of World War II. Climate change, pandemics, wars, disruptive technologies, and social fractures are all crises that are turning Nations and peoples against each other. In such critical times, rediscovering the importance of international diplomacy and multilateral institutions such as the United Nations is pivotal to understand and mitigate the effects of such crises. The pursuit of dialogue and cooperation remains the only way to achieve, all around the globe, the Sustainable Development Goals to grant a prosperous and peaceful future for all humanity.

We remember entering our first committee as it was yesterday, afraid to speak our minds, shaking at the thought of making a mistake. But as our sessions went on, we discovered how funny and interesting the world of the Model United Nations was! We discovered that our opinions were as much as valuable as the others.

Studying and debating on the topics, like you, opened our eyes on the problems of our society; Being able to find a solution to those problems inspired us and gave us hope that one day we could make a difference. As our world continues to develop, it's important that you, the new Generation, keep the flame of curiosity lit and the road of diplomacy clear. We hope that this experience will teach you as much as it taught us through the years, and that you will think of it as a launching pad for your soft skills and talents!

As we can't wait to see you all debate about your topics and share your ideas on the topics of this year's edition, we'll see you soon during IMUN Middle School Rome!

We wish you all to have fun and to discover some of the skills that you never had the opportunity to use, welcome to IMUN!
